Vitro Honored as Top Supplier by General Motors for Its Outstanding Performance and Contribution in 2005

Garza, Garcia, Nuevo Leon, Mexico, January 19, 2006.- Vitro was honored by General Motors with a special recognition for its outstanding performance and contribution to GM's product excellence during 2005 in a ceremony held January 12, 2006 at the North American International Annual Auto Show in Detroit, Michigan.

Bo Anderson, Vice-President, GM Global Purchasing and Supply Chain honored 10 companies for their performance and contributions to GM's product excellence, among them Vitro who achieved important objectives in GM's quality standards, cost and delivery, as well as contributions to production and concept vehicles GM unveils at the NAIAS.

"Recognizing suppliers' performance and contributions is important. While it is essential to drive performance, it is critical that suppliers who meet or exceed GM's expectations be honored as role models for the automotive industry.", said Bo Anderson.

"We are honored to receive this special recognition from GM which certifies our staff's commitment towards quality and leadership among worldwide automotive industry suppliers. In addition, it allows us to strengthen our position and well known reputation for future business opportunities with GM", said Jose Domene, President of Flat Glass.

"We are honored to receive this recognition and are devoted to fulfill the company's future growth needs. We are certainly proud to be one of the best automotive glass suppliers worldwide for GM and I am sure our employees and workers will be proud of this achievement", said Eduardo Portillo, Vitro's Automotive Business Director.

Consider the fact that Vitro received in April of 2005 its fourth award as Supplier of the Year by GM, confirming its global performance in providing World Class products and services to this industry leader.

Vitro supplies automotive glass for an important amount of GM models, such as Chevy, Suburban, Avalanche, HHR, Hummer 2, G6, Impala, Malibu, Tahoe, Lucerna, Cadillac DTS, among other.

Through Vitro's Flat Glass business unit, the Company dedicates to manufacture and sale of flat glass for the construction and automotive industries. It is the largest flat glass producer in Mexico; the second-largest manufacturer in Latin America; and among the United States leading distributors, through its subsidiary Vitro America.

Vitro, S.A. de C.V. (NYSE: VTO; BMV: VITROA), through its subsidiary companies, is one of the world's leading glass producers. Vitro is a major participant in three principal businesses: flat glass, glass containers and glassware. Its subsidiaries serve multiple product markets, including construction and automotive glass; food and beverage, wine, liquor, cosmetics and pharmaceutical glass containers; glassware for commercial, industrial and retail uses. Vitro also produces raw materials, equipment and capital goods for industrial uses. Founded in 1909 in Monterrey, Mexico-based Vitro has joint ventures with major world-class partners and industry leaders that provide its subsidiaries with access to international markets, distribution channels and state-of-the-art technology. Vitro's subsidiaries have facilities and distribution centers in nine countries, located in North, Central and South America, and Europe, and export to more than 70 countries worldwide.
